Look Behind the Newspapers

Read The Review of Reviews

Each day your newspaper brings you a new page of rumors, reports and opinions. Which are true? What is really happening? You cannot tell. Now that the nation is at war you must know the truth about every issue, and you can know it. You can look behind the newspapers —see the reality, whether bad or good— see clearly during these days of confusion —by reading the REVIEW OF REVIEWS.

Out of the whole world of muddle today, the REVIEW OF REVIEWS picks the big, real features and presents them to you. England and France, as well as America, read the greatest American writer on the War. That writer is Frank H. Simonds. Each month in the REVIEW OF REVIEWS Mr. Simonds discusses the War for the preceding month so vividly that it is as if you were on the battle front yourself.

You need the REVIEW OF REVIEWS for its many special articles. and you need it to save time, for it picks out from the periodicals of the world all that has been worth while for the month and repeats the gist of it for you.

You need it for Dr. Albert Shaw's editorials—nearly fifty each month—and for the cartoons and pictures that brighten the daily news. The REVIEW OF REVIEWS is the clearing-house of the news of the world. It is called by Senators, Governors, Ex-Presidents, College Presidents, great jurists and miners, farmers, soldiers and clerks—all who wish to keep up with the times—"the Necessary Magazine."

You Need Not Send Cash With Order to Moore-Cottrell

Our experience of nearly fifty years in the magazine subscription business has convinced us that the American people are fundamentally honest. We are, therefore, entirely satisfied to accept your family periodical order for the coming year on the following plan:

You May Remit After Receiving Our Bill

1. Select the periodicals you wish to order—write your list on the order blank enclosed herewith—and mail it to us in the enclosed addressed envelope.
2. You need not (unless you wish) send payment with order. We will send you bill in due course at lowest possible prices.

It is often difficult for a customer to find out for himself the lowest prices possible to obtain on any considerable list of periodicals, because of special offers made by publishers—sometimes after our catalogues have gone to press. We can always save you money if you trust us with your order—and will guarantee that you shall have the lowest prices possible for any one to accept. If you knew us as well as we wish you to, you would place all of your subscriptions through us.

Orders Without Remittances will be promptly filled and bill rendered you with the understanding that—unless otherwise stated—payment will be made within ten days after your receipt of our bill. If a longer time is desired kindly state on your original order the date when you wish to pay. Any reasonable request will be cheerfully granted.

Overpayments Returned. If you send cash with your order and we find that we can fill your subscriptions for less money, we will at once send you credit for the amount of your overpayment.

Your Personal Check will be accepted without charge for exchange.

Advance Renewals. Even if your subscriptions for the periodicals which you now take do not expire for two or three months, we strongly advise you to renew them now. They probably will cost you more later. In sending us your order, tell us (in the space provided on the order blank) what subscriptions are renewals, what are new, and when you wish the new subscriptions to begin. The renewals will take effect from the date of their present expiration.

Magazines ordered sent to soldiers will be greatly appreciated by them and be constant reminders of the givers. Address periodicals for American soldiers in Europe in following form:
NAME.....Co.....,.....INFANTRY, AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES.
No extra payment required for foreign postage on periodicals addressed as above.

Responsibility to Customers. In the comparatively few cases in times past where periodicals have failed or discontinued publication, it has been possible nearly always for the failing periodical to make arrangements with other publishers for the fulfilment of its unexpired subscriptions, so that paid in advance subscribers have suffered little or no loss. We obviously cannot guarantee, however, that this will always be done and we cannot hold ourselves responsible for losses to customers due to insolvency or discontinuance of publication of any periodical or periodicals.

Magazine Prices Must Continue to Increase

The cost of production of periodicals is constantly increasing.

An enormous increase in postage for mailing magazines is almost a certainty.

Save Money—Order Your Magazines NOW. Order for two or more years ahead, whenever possible. See page 4 for two-year offers.

ORDER NOW

Give Periodicals for Holiday or Birthday Presents

WE WILL MAIL A BEAUTIFUL PRESENTATION CARD FREE

to any one to whom you wish to give a subscription to any periodical. Simply state in your order NAME OF PERSON MAKING GIFT, NAME OF PERIODICAL, NAME AND ADDRESS OF PERSON TO WHOM PERIODICAL IS TO BE SENT. If your order is received in time, card will be mailed so as to reach your friend on Christmas or New Year's morning as the case may be. Place your order at once and avoid holiday rush.

How to Find the Correct Clubbing Price of any List of Periodicals Desired

We have classified the periodicals listed in this Catalogue according to a plan based on the prices at which we are able to combine them into popular priced clubs. The "Class Numbers" are prefixed to the respective periodicals, not only in the "General Directory," (pp. 53-72), but also in many of the principal clubs, so that additions to any given club may easily be made. The rule for finding the Club Price of any list of publications is:

Add together the Class Numbers of the Magazines which you wish to order, and multiply by 5. The result will be the Correct Club Price.

Why 300,000 Families Love THE CHRISTIAN HERALD

THE CHRISTIAN HERALD is doing something more than merely placing interesting reading matter in the homes of its readers. It is giving them a part in great enterprises. It is giving them spiritual and material helpfulness. It is the one magazine that represents in the most vital way all of the interests of Protestant Christianity and of the on-marching Church of Christ. Week by week, the Christian Herald is giving its readers issues of absorbing interest. You should be a regular reader of the Christian Herald and enjoy the special features which are now appearing.

In a few words---

—Good Housekeeping is the most important magazine in America to-day. With its celebrated Institute, its Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health under the direction of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, its tested recipes, its suggestions for canning and preserving, its certified household economies, Good Housekeeping is making it possible to manage a home—and homes are the bulwarks of a nation—with the utmost of efficiency, comfort, beauty and hygiene.

You need Good Housekeeping. It will help you and entertain you. Some of the things for the year:

FICTION

Serials by William J. Locke, Kathleen Norris, Frances Hodgson Burnett; short stories by John Galsworthy, Mary Roberts Rinehart, Meredith Nicholson, Cosmo Hamilton, Jeanette Lee, Mary Synon, Ellen Glasgow.

SPECIAL ARTICLES

Madeline Z. Doty, the widely known author of "Society's Misfits" and "Half Rations," is practically circling the globe for us to get at first-hand material for her articles on the women of war-scarred countries. Among other places she will visit Japan, Siberia, Russia, England, France and Italy. There will be a series on child training by Miriam Finn Scott; Decoration by Mrs. John W. Alexander; every day psychology by H. Addington Bruce; others by Maude Radford Warren, Ida Tarbell, Mildred Maddocks.

ARTISTS

Jesse Wilcox Smith, Franklin Booth, James Montgomery Flagg, Rose O'Neill, W. T. Benda, and photographic illustrations by Lejaren A. Hiller.

FASHIONS

Every month there are about 20 pages of fashions, showing by illustration and description the smart, the simple, the sane, with an emphatic avoidance of the freakish and bizarre.

The Delineator reflects everything that the great name of Butterick stands for in fashions. The latest styles from Paris and New York that have made the name of Butterick famous, appear regularly in The Delineator.

Then there are charming stories by world-famous authors—interesting special articles, such as "The Quest for Life's Dearest Gift," "The Girl Who Is Not Popular," etc.—the famous "Save the Seventh Baby" campaign and its country-wide reform—brilliantly edited departments, such as "The Beauty Shop," "Ask Us Any Question Under the Sun," etc.—and useful helps in kitchen, nursery and sewing-room.

Everybody's is America's great "human interest" magazine. The best in short story, novel, illustration and special article appear in Everybody's, monthly.

Interesting "close-ups" on the Great War—Samuel Hopkins Adams' startling revelations of treason—the great serial, "The White Arc," by Henry Kitchell Webster, and a host of brilliant short stories crowd Everybody's with interest.

Four beautiful color pictures—suitable for framing—also appear in each big issue.

Don't fail to add the new Everybody's to your list—new in size, war material, and its beautiful art reproductions.

THE new price of the new Ladies' World will be $1.50 a year. If you subscribe now we will sell you this $1.50 magazine at half price—$1.50 instead of $3.00 for a full two-year subscription. With the February number, The Ladies' World will be enlarged to the McClure size. We will crowd it with novels and short stories. We will discover what is new and startling and romantic in the wide world of filmdom, and we will place it before you in such an attractive way that the "cut and dried" movie magazines will pale beside our pages. We will give you delightful month-to-month treats of all the things you are most interested in—enough of serials, short fiction, articles, movies and helpful departments to make a well-balanced feast.

IF YOU LOVE YOUR CHILDREN
PROVIDE THEM WITH

LITTLE FOLKS

The Children's Magazine

IT helps to cultivate their tastes for good reading, teaches them lessons in kindness, thoughtfulness and unselfishness, and at the same time amuses them continuously for hours all through the year.

Its fascinating stories of children, animals and things, help the younger children to learn to read easily and quickly, and the older ones to read better and more intelligently. It contains nature stories, wonderful picture or rebus stories for the very smallest children, verses to recite, kindergarten songs, fairy tales, folk lore of many nations, stories of real and make-believe children, etc.

And besides all this, there are things for the children to do or make:

Pictures to paint — New games to play
Cut-outs to make — Things to draw
Toys to make — for even the smallest children

McCLURE'S MAGAZINE

Brilliant is the one word that describes McClure's this year. Its Fiction and articles by Gertrude Atherton, Ernest Poole and scores of other favorites, including Booth Tarkington, Holworthy Hall, Sophie Kerr, Porter Emerson Browne, Melville Davisson Post and Dana Gatlin—its Fact Stories, such as David Warfield's wonderful autobiography, the extraordinary Temperance Series and the Business Stories in which Edward Mott Wooley, James H. Collins and Cleveland Moffett are supreme—its Art Work by Flagg, Underwood, Preston and Chambers—all combine each month to round out a magazine of infinite variety and charm, rich in all that makes a magazine interesting, entertaining, worth reading.

The Magazine
OF THE HOUR

If you are Knitting,

Interested in Red Cross Work,

Helping the Food Administration, or

"DOING YOUR BIT"

in some other way,

READ

The Modern Priscilla

EACH issue of The Modern Priscilla is bubbling over with features of interest to women right now. If you enjoy knitting, The Priscilla will give you enough designs for the newest knitted novelties to keep you busy all winter. If you are interested in the Red Cross, there is a message for you in each issue, direct from Red Cross Headquarters. If the only way you can "do your bit" is right at home, The Modern Priscilla will tell you what the United States Government, and the Hoover Food Administration, wants you to do.

Besides all this you will find Priscilla's Fancy Work section as fascinating as fiction. Scores of beautiful, new designs for Embroidery, Crocheting, Tatting, Weaving, Basketry, China Painting and Bead Work are given in each issue.

In the Everyday Housekeeping section a galaxy of housekeeping experts give hundreds of sensible new ideas for better housekeeping. Famous culinary experts give their best recipes for delicious war-time dishes. The Priscilla Proving Plant, which tests all the new housekeeping ideas and devices, tells you which are worth adopting. And to top all this—like frosting a cake—each issue of The Modern Priscilla shows a few select fashions from a world famous designing house.

PICTORIAL REVIEW

IF there is one magazine filling a universal need in the best type of American homes right now it is Pictorial Review. Government officials at Washington recognize this fact and have written to the editor of Pictorial Review expressing their appreciation of the work Pictorial Review is doing.

More and more space will be given in Pictorial Review to show the women of America how to practice true economy and how they may supply their tables with the best foods at the lowest costs. Pictorial Review with its fashion service is also showing American women how they may dress stylishly and keep up their wardrobes with the least possible expenditure of money, time and effort.

"WHAT THE WAR REALLY MEANS TO WOMEN"

Are you reading Mabel Potter Daggett's unique series in Pictorial Review—"What The War Really Means to Women." It was the foresight of the editor of Pictorial Review in sending Mrs. Daggett to Europe a year ago that made possible for the women of America this timely series of epoch-making articles. They are the most electrifying articles we have ever published. Don't miss them.

For years Pictorial Review has been first and foremost in molding the thought and action of American women. It was the first woman's magazine that dared to advocate woman suffrage; the first to champion the cause of club women; and the first to endorse the now generally accepted feminist program. During these strenuous times especially, Pictorial Review is the favorite magazine of the large body of intelligent and serious-minded women who are trying to "Do Their Bit."

FOUR BIG NOVELS FOR 1918

Pictorial Review was the first magazine for women to inaugurate the completion of book-length serials in three or four issues. In Pictorial Review you can begin and finish a book-length novel in three or four instalments. Think what that means. You are able to read four $1.50 novels during the year as well as all the other wonderful things in Pictorial Review for the price of a single year's subscription. You must not miss the novels to be published in 1918 by these noted authors:

KATHLEEN NORRIS
GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER
CORRA HARRIS
ARTHUR STRINGER

WORTH MILLIONS

Today all ambitious men and boys must keep posted on the newest ideas of science and invention. They must know about the marvellous new machines and the wonderful discoveries that are making the United States the greatest country in the world.

Every month thousands of new ideas are patented. All that are worth while are shown and described in the POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY, the most interesting and useful magazine in America—the authority on inventions and science for over forty years.

Next year's issues will weigh over 14 pounds and will contain

4,000 vivid pictures
2,700 vital articles

The description of each invention and discovery is complete and comprehensive and easy for any one to understand. Every page is more fascinating, more gripping, more thrilling than any fiction you ever read—yet every word is truth, every word is about some new achievement that may give you a valuable idea.

Popular Science MONTHLY

gives all the new ideas in automobiles, submarines, aeroplanes, moving pictures, manufacturing, all the new war machines and war discoveries, such as poison gas, liquid fire, hand grenades, camouflage, fog screen and depth bombs.

POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY enters all clubbing offers at its regular price, $1.50 a year (Class 30) $1.50

SCRIBNER'S

ANNOUNCES FOR 1918

Winston Churchill

now abroad for SCRIBNER'S, will write a series of articles on the changes, both superficial and fundamental, which the war has wrought in the social and political institutions of England, and their relation to America. He will show that side of the war that has to do with the self-realization of people in general, so that Americans may have a clear idea of the issues involved in the conflict.

Meredith Nicholson

will write a notable series of six papers, "The Valley of Democracy," on the people and activities of the Middle West to-day, and show how they differ from the East. He draws his illustrations from personal experiences—what the "folks" think, their political ideals, their social aims, good cheer and buoyancy are shown against a lightly sketched historic background.

Henry van Dyke

since his return from The Hague, where he was American Minister, has published his "Fighting for Peace" and a volume of war poems, "The Red Flower." He will continue to contribute frequently during the year to SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.

Edith Wharton

is now in Morocco with an official party sent by the Government. They will be taken all over the new motor roads, built since the war, from Tangiers to the far south. Every opportunity will be given to see the military organization at a time when hard fighting is going on. She will write of this unique experience in several articles for SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.

Robert Grant

Judge of Probate in Boston (author of "Unleavened Bread," "The High Priestess," etc.), will write several papers on people and their property growing out of his observations through many years in court.

John Galsworthy

will follow his "Flotsam and Jetsam" in December with several unusual short stories, among them "A Brave Soul" and "Cafard," stories set in France in war time.

The War and Our Part in It

Every month phases of the war in which we are taking an increasing part will be described or discussed. Many men of diverse talents will write from first-hand observation of the war—among them: James B. Connolly, Captain Kermit Roosevelt, who is now in Mesopotamia, Captain E. Alexander Powell, Professor Paul van Dyke (Princeton Director of the University Union in Paris), Lieutenant Hugh Wiley of the Engineers, Professor Bergson, the eminent French psychologist, and others.

The Best Fiction Written

A serial by the author of "Bonnie May," LOUIS DODGE, is entitled "A Runaway Woman."

SHORT STORIES BY MANY WRITERS: Katharine Fullerton Gerould, Mary R. S. Andrews, Katharine Holland Brown, Abbie Carter Goodloe, Mary Synon, Gordon Hall Gerould, Norval Richardson, Gordon Arthur Smith, Maxwell Struthers Burt, Armistead C. Gordon, Ralph D. Paine, Lawrence Perry, Edward C. Venable, Hugh Wiley, George T. Marsh, and others.

CURRENT OPINION

63 W. 36th St. New York.

gives a comprehensive survey each month of national and international affairs. Reviews the periodical literature of the entire world and quotes freely from authoritative sources on both sides of the questions of the day. Has special departments devoted to Biographical Sketches of prominent men and women, Science, Art, Literature, the Stage, Music, Religion, Poetry, Economics, Business and Industry.

"I regard it as the highest type of illuminating periodical literature in America."
—T. L. Masson,
Editor of "Life."

"A public benefaction."
—John Wanamaker,
the famous merchant.

"One of the best periodicals we have."
—W. H. P. Faunce,
President of Brown University.

"Certainly one of the best, if not the best, periodical I ever looked into."
—Matthew Woods,
the eminent physician.

A New Feature

Heretofore Current Opinion has been strictly eclectic, but in the October number appeared an article by Lord Northcliffe entitled "What America is Fighting For." This is typical of a series of original articles by big men on big questions that Current Opinion is now featuring monthly, adding increased variety to its already diversified contents.

WHETHER you prefer to read about war and the inventions of war, or about the pursuits and inventions of peace—the mechanisms that will help our boys in the trenches or the devices that will aid you in the field, the office or the home;

Whether you prefer to read about the hundreds of unusual things that hundreds of unusual men and women are doing; or whether you would forget for the time being your cares and revel in a description of the new possibilities in summer outings—you will find some phase of every form of human activity in Illustrated World.

THE GARDEN MAGAZINE

THE mission of THE GARDEN MAGAZINE has been more and better gardens. It has helped thousands to have successful gardens and this year when it is an act of patriotism to garden, the magazine will not fail in its service. The Garden Magazine can help you solve the high cost of living. It will not only tell you what to grow under given conditions, but why. Soil, irrigation, fertilization, greenhouses, the storing of vegetables, and preserving, are all adequately treated.

This year there will be a special feature, "The Beginner's Garden." Each month from January to December this new department will tell you what to do, and illustrate it with actual photographs. While the war lasts vegetable gardening will dominate the editorial policy of The Garden Magazine, but there will be several articles each month on the care and cultivation of flowers.

Invest $2.00 in THE GARDEN MAGAZINE and it will pay you big dividends throughout the year.

Special Offer:

The World's Work . . $3.00	Both for
The Garden Magazine . 2.00	$4.00

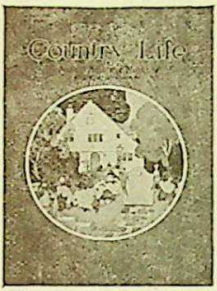
The New Country Life

(Formerly Country Life in America)



THE color manuals that are appearing each month in The New COUNTRY LIFE strike a new note. No magazine has ever attempted to give its readers more practical information than we are presenting in these manuals. Each issue will have 16 pages of four color illustrations and a comprehensive article by an authority on some subject definitely related to the home in the country.

Subjects to be treated in the coming year will include Oriental Rugs, Furniture, Gardens in Color, Interior Decoration, Old Prints, Our Own Dog Show, and The Red Cross Pageant.

The manual in color is only one feature of a magazine that is of practical interest to those who live in the country from choice. You will find regular departments on building, remodeling, interior decoration, gardening, the automobile, poultry, dogs, live stock, etc. All outdoor interests are adequately treated in this de luxe magazine.

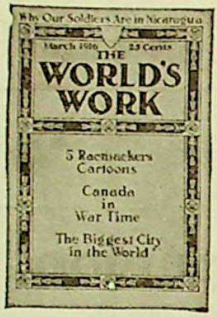
THE WORLD'S WORK



A magazine that is more than a review of current events. It is an interpreter of History as it is being made. Tells why things happen. Gets at the big, fundamental idea behind the news. The work of the world just now is to fight for Democracy, and while the magazine will not be given over to a discussion of the war, the subject will be adequately treated in each issue.

THE ETUDE

THE WORLD'S FOREMOST MUSICAL MAGAZINE

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

Canadian Postage, Extra 25¢ Foreign Postage, Extra 72¢

Every issue of THE ETUDE contains a complete music section of twenty-four pages, twenty to twenty-two complete pieces of music for piano, voice, violin, organ, duet, etc. In one year THE ETUDE gives its subscribers 288 large pages of music—240 splendid pieces, many written expressly for THE ETUDE, something for all ages, grades and tastes. The retail value of this music is about $75.00.

Hundreds of invaluable articles, written for THE ETUDE by the world's foremost virtuosos, teachers, singers and writers, bring pleasure and musical knowledge to every ETUDE home, twelve times a year. Actual lessons by the world's master musicians and teachers are presented, any one of which, if taken personally by the subscriber, would cost many times the annual subscription price of THE ETUDE. Twelve departments, each a little musical journal in itself, keep ETUDE readers up-to-date on the big things in the world of music. As a treat for yourself, or a gift for some music loving friend, THE ETUDE is unsurpassed.

THE Pacific Coast of North America has a personality as individual and as easily recognized as that of the friend whose appearance attracts and whose activities interest us. It is a region of varied and in many respects transcendent beauty; it is a country thrilling with the pulse of new development, aflame with the ideal of turning waste places into homes, elated by consciousness that there is no better place anywhere for the larger life of earnest men and women. The mere reflection of this personality has been enough to make a magazine and give it an important place among the publications of America.

To be a regular and welcome visitor to the reading-tables of intelligent men and women is the mission of Sunset Magazine. As the personality of a friend develops, grows richer, finer, more admirable as the years ripen it, so does Sunset Magazine hope to impress all those to whom it may become an inspiration and a source of information and pleasure.

Sunset

THE MAGAZINE OF THE PACIFIC AND OF ALL THE FAR WEST

"The Livest Magazine in America"

The Metropolitan is fighting its part in this war. Read its searching editorials by H. J. WHIGHAM that keep just ahead of the times, its news of conditions abroad by the keen WILLIAM HARD, its articles by ROOSEVELT that ring out across the whole land, its spirited truth-dealing fiction, its words of the future—that new and more vigorous age that is already dawning.

COMING!

Every month an exclusive editorial article by THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

BOOTH TARKINGTON'S new novel—a great love story of the Middle West that begins with the start of the automobile industry in America. The biggest novel of the biggest living American writer.

A great timely series of articles on SPIRITUALISM. BOOTH TARKINGTON contributes an amazing article to this series, "Stars in the Dust Heap," and a second relating his amazing personal adventures with the Spirit world. Another is by SINCLAIR LEWIS who tells the inside sensational story of his experience at the Lily Dale Camp meeting of the Spiritualists. Following this will be a series of articles based on an investigation of the SPIRITUALIST CHURCH and a thorough going account of the unknown and vast organization.

A series of three love stories, each complete but all having to do with a modern girl, by HENRY KITCHELL WEBSTER. Other stories by EDNA FERBER and LARRY EVANS.

The great part played by the British Fleet in this war adds to the importance and timeliness of a series of four story articles by BARTIMUS who is a commander in the British Navy. BARTIMUS' stories will take you into the romantic life of the grand fleet. He writes with the vividness and punch of Kipling and the added advantage of knowing more about the great British Fleet than Kipling could possibly know about the first navy of the world.

A great series of stories is coming by SINCLAIR LEWIS, with the central character Lancelot Todd, the promoter of big business and a typical 20 century product. Lancelot Todd "is a compound of punch, pep and purest rot serene." He is the greatest fiction creation since Wallingford.

Harper's Bazar

the only magazine of

Fashions, Fiction and Society

Fashionable women everywhere have turned with one accord to Harper's Bazar. They depend on it for their style information because its fashions are authoritative. The greatest artists in Paris and New York contribute regularly —and exclusively—to Harper's Bazar. They include Drian, Soulié and Erté, of Paris, Miss E. M. A. Steinmetz, the best known American fashion artist, and Lady Duff Gordon, Henri Bendel, Hickson and Tappé, of New York.

Harper's Bazar is the only magazine in America that gives you in addition to Fashions—

Fiction and Society

During the coming year there will be stories by Amelie Rives, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Maria Thompson Daviess, May Edginton and other celebrated authors.

Recognizing in Harper's Bazar the best magazine of its kind, Society is giving it exclusive material. Our contributors include such well-known women as Mrs. French Vanderbilt, Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, Mrs. Adrian Iselin and others of prominence.

An Investment

Harper's Bazar fashions can save you many dollars when choosing your wardrobe. Its Shopping Service describes and will buy for you many bargains from the best shops. Through the Dog Department you can buy or sell a dog and the School Bureau will help you select a school for your children. There is no extra charge for any of these services.

Harper's Bazar editions are limited to the exact demand. The only way to be sure of receiving every issue is to be a regular subscriber. The Bazar is $3.00 a year.

FROM THE FIRST SHOT

of the Great War (it was The Independent that gave this war its name) The Independent has marched squarely abreast with its stupendous events, every number throbbing with live news, flashing out the swift changing drama of current history and ringing with messages of the hour.

And Now—

with the United States playing a vital role The Independent is more necessary to you than ever. The Independent leads in dealing with current events; and current history today is more fascinating and stranger than fiction. All papers deal with the War. But The Independent, so they say, does so best of all. It CAN do so, for not only does it handle the events of the hour more swiftly—by from one to five weeks—than other periodicals, weekly or monthly, but it has ample space to express judgments; ample space to chronicle and illuminate the week's events; ample space to print first-hand articles by highest authorities and those on the firing-line of every activity; ample space to print the latest and most graphic pictures. The Independent has a distinct message not possessed by any other magazine. It is improving all the time both mechanically, artistically and editorially. That is why it now has five times as many readers as four years ago.

Every Family reads and enjoys Cosmopolitan

More than a million people buy and enjoy Cosmopolitan every month. It is the best known and the most widely read fiction magazine in the world. Stories of adventure, romance, mystery—Cosmopolitan has them all, written by the greatest writers and illustrated by the greatest artists in the world.

And now Cosmopolitan is planning an even more interesting magazine than ever before. The coming year will see in Cosmopolitan more great novels, more cracking good stories, more big features—more of everything that makes it "America's Greatest Magazine."

Here is a foretaste of the great program you can expect:

OWEN JOHNSON—a new novel "Virtuous Wives"—sure to be talked about.

BOOTH TARKINGTON has written a great Penrod serial for Cosmopolitan. It will probably begin in January and run five issues. Everybody loves Penrod and his dog.

ARNOLD BENNETT—a series of articles on various timely subjects.

EDITH WHARTON—a new serial coming.

JOHN GALSWORTHY the author of "Beyond" is sending us a new two part story from England.

FANNIE HURST has a new story almost every issue. She writes exclusively for Cosmopolitan.

GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER—a Wallingford story every month.

SAMUEL MERWIN—a new series of Henry the Ninth stories. Henry is a real heartbreaker.

REX BEACH—two adventure articles to appear in Decemoer and January numbers.

GEORGE ADE—a Fable in Slang every month.

ARTHUR S. ROCHE—a new serial coming.

ROBERT W. CHAMBERS, his new novel, "The Restless Sex" now running and beating all records. Surely you want to continue with and finish it.

Among Cosmopolitan's other regular contributors are Herbert Kaufman, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Dana Gatlin, Elizabeth Robins, Gouverneur Morris and a host of others.

Illustrations by such great artists as Harrison Fisher, W. T. Benda, John T. McCutcheon, T. D. Skidmore, James Montgomery Flagg, George Gibbs, Howard Chandler Christy, Alonzo Kimball, Anton Otto Fischer, Will Foster and W. D. Stevens.

There are no special rates, premiums or combination offers on Cosmopolitan. The subscription price for one year—twelve big, all-star numbers—is $1.50. We can afford this low price because we have no special rates to anyone. Consequently Cosmopolitan's subscription list is made up of more than 350,000 people who know the best magazine when they see it, and want it for the good things it contains.

Send in your order now for Cosmopolitan.

A weekly magazine that sells at $4; that has quadrupled its circulation in 24 months; that hasn't a pretty girl on the cover or a story inside ——and is described by such a man as Herbert Hoover as "the best-balanced organ of liberal opinion in America to-day", is likely to be a magazine worth your knowing.

The New Republic is not a lazy man's weekly. It is alert, progressive, creative and in earnest. It doesn't ask you to believe what it believes: it asks you to cross swords with it in the earning of opinions that shall be your own. To read The New Republic is to have the great experience of discovering the significance of your own epoch. Because it is made to buy and not to sell, because it doesn't even try "to give the public what it wants", the London Daily News has called it "the most influential organ in America".

TRAVEL

as much as ever

"The Magazine That Takes You There"

Each month TRAVEL carries you to the four corners of the earth, to Occident and Orient, and gives you the joy and inspiration of actual travel. Its wonderful pictures gathered from the ends of the earth are alone worth the entire amount of the subscription. This year, in addition to covering travel in the peaceful parts of the world, it is following, as well, the journeys of our troops abroad. An illustrated section appears each month containing graphic pictures of the war. There is not a member of your family that will not enjoy and profit from TRAVEL.

During the year TRAVEL publishes

500 large pages of text, and 1000 striking photographs

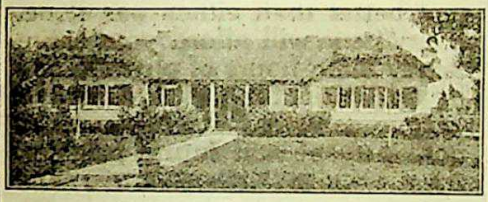
The Common Welfare

is the field covered through vivid facts, authoritative opinion and graphic illustrations by the Survey, Journal of Social Work.

In human terms it tells you what you want to know about current progress in Red Cross Home Service and the relief and prevention of poverty; public health; industrial welfare; education and recreation; crime, vice and delinquency; civics; and race relations.

It is used as a handbook by people everywhere who want to know how to help the "other fellow" or merely want to know the truth about human needs and service.

The Survey is published weekly; price, three dollars a year.



THE HOUSE BEAUTIFUL

Makes Your House a Home

ITS handsomely illustrated articles, written by experts on building, furnishing and landscape gardening, are devoted solely to the house and its surroundings. Its watchword is practical service plus good taste. Its aim is to help subscribers achieve homes that are more comfortable, more convenient, more artistic, more homelike. In its pages you will find, month by month, information on:

Building—materials, architecture, plumbing, lighting, modern household conveniences.

Furnishing—the best in furniture, hangings, rugs and interior arrangements.

Decoration—Arts and crafts, pictures, china, bric-a-brac, collectors' hobbies.

Yards and Gardens—delightful walks, hedges, driveways, shrubs and flower beds.

In addition, the Readers' Service of The House Beautiful offers to subscribers free personal advice on any matter, pertaining to home-building, home-furnishing, home beautifying. Its Shopping Guide helps you to decide what to buy, where to buy, and how much to pay. A year's subscription will make your home a better, happier place to live in. Without it, no clubbing combination is complete.

The James Whitcomb

Riley Year in Harper's Magazine

"Good cheer for the Nation"

James Whitcomb Riley's letters, from his earliest wandering days, will be printed during 1918 in Harper's Magazine. Nothing can add to this simple statement, the most interesting magazine announcement of a decade. Here we see the young Riley as traveling sign-painter; selling patent medicines; struggles to write poetry; lecturing with Bill Nye; the coming of fame; the trips abroad, and best of all there are many letters to little children, typically Riley in their charm.

This is the one hundredth birthday year of the House of Harper—the publishers of Harper's Magazine. To fittingly celebrate the beginning of their second century, the publishers are planning to make the year 1918 the most brilliantly notable year in all the annals of Harper's Magazine, with its unmatched record of two generations of success—more modern than ever in tone, more youthful in spirit, always vitally interesting in contents, and made for those who appreciate the richness and beauty of its appearance.

THE AMERICAN BOY

"The Biggest, Brightest, Best Magazine for Boys in All the World."

The American Boy is the cherished friend of half a million boys. It brings clean, wholesome stories that carry a good moral, but do not preach; that instruct, but do not ostensibly teach. The American Boy is positive, not negative. In 1918 the American Boy will publish, first, in serial form, 7 of the best books to be published during the year. There will also be short stories about school life, base ball, and other sports, animals, Indians, the sea, camping, fishing, the Army and Navy, the great war and many other things—enough to fill 8 more big volumes. Dan Beard's page for outdoor boys. No wonder 500,000 boys read The American Boy each month! It is the finest Christmas present you could give your boy or any other boy you love.

The American Boy is included in clubbing offers all through this catalog. It is a class 25 publication and can be included in any combination offer by adding $1.25. Alone, $1.50.

Today's Housewife

Decreases the Cost and Increases the Joys of Living

TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE is the new title of TODAY'S MAGAZINE, with which has been consolidated THE HOUSEWIFE. This attractively illustrated housekeeper's magazine is bigger, brighter and better than either was alone. Every issue will afford your entire family many hours of pleasure and in addition the inspiration and encouragement that always make both present and future brighter.

Any woman who fails to get at least $5.00 value from a year's subscription for TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE is letting pure gold slip thru her fingers. One woman aptly remarked that if she spent all her money as wisely as that invested in subscribing for TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE, she would soon own a bank.

Every coming number of TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE you miss is an opportunity lost for the pleasure, profit and welfare of your family. The scores of tested recipes and household pointers in each issue are alone worth the regular price of 10c a copy.

TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE has more practical money-saving, labor-saving and home-making ideas than most women's magazines costing $1.50 per year. TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE is the homemakers' magazine of helpfulness and happiness.

Thousands of copies are sold each month at 10 cents each, but the price is a poor measure of the actual worth to you of this favorite in over 1,100,000 homes. By subscribing by the year you can obtain 12 big 10-cent numbers for only 75 cents. Subscribe at once. You will always be glad you did.

GENERAL DIRECTORY OF ALL PERIODICALS

The Prices in this Catalogue supersede all previous ones. Order from this after November 20, 1917. In nearly all cases prices quoted here will be good till November 10, 1918. All prices subject to publishers' changes.

"Our Price." Customers should note that the prices in the column headed "Our Price" are for single subscriptions, and are in a great many cases quoted at the full publishers' prices because of their requirements. However, when clubbed with other periodicals the club prices of the group are usually much less.

Club Prices with other periodicals are found by adding class numbers together and multiplying by 5.

Prices Quoted are for annual subscriptions, new or renewal, and subscriptions in clubs may be sent to the same address or to different addresses, as desired, unless otherwise stated.

Subscription Prices include prepayment of postage by publisher in the United States, Mexico, Hawaiian Islands, Island of Guam, Philippine Archipelago, Porto Rico, Virgin Islands (Danish West Indies), Tutuila, Cuba, Canal Zone, Republic of Panama, and U. S. Postal District at Shanghai, China, Expeditionary Forces in France through U. S. Postal Agency in France, including American warships in foreign waters. Foreign and Canadian postage extra. Write for information.

A Receipt is Sent for each remittance. Complaints for non-delivery of magazines ordered should not be made for at least three weeks after the receipt card is received.

Our Responsibility to Customers ceases when we have entered and paid publishers for the full time for which subscriptions were ordered. In case of failure of a publication before subscription expires the subscriber must be the loser exactly as if he had subscribed direct, but we are always glad to do everything possible to bring about a satisfactory adjustment of our customers' claims.

Warning. Because everything that goes into the cost of magazine making has nearly doubled in price during the past year, publishers are limiting their editions to about the actual number of copies of each issue necessary to fill their subscriptions. It is, therefore, rarely possible for a publisher to begin a subscription with a back issue. Subscriptions should begin with the next issue instead of the issue current when the subscription is sent. This will save complaint and prevent disappointment. Some periodicals, like the Cosmopolitan, Good Housekeeping, Metropolitan, Pictorial Review, etc., are published from twenty to thirty days previous to date of issue, and subscriptions received after the tenth of the month previous to date of issue can rarely be begun before the publication of the next month's number. For instance, subscriptions for these received after December 10, may have to begin with February issue.

Christmas Cards giving name of donor will be sent in time to be received Christmas morning by persons to whom you give subscriptions providing you place your order in time and ask for them in ordering. Save money by ordering periodicals for Christmas presents early and have the subscriptions begin with any month in future desired.
